Pope Francis reminds us that the three temptations Jesus experienced are also common for us: the temptation to play God, the false security of economic well-being, and giving in to evil as a short-cut to power. A temptation is an empty fantasy, always powerless to deliver what it promises. When we give into temptation, we are left feeling even more unsatisfied than before.

It is helpful to know when we are most vulnerable to sin. Think H.A.L.T! When we are hungry, angry, lonely or tired we are likely to grasp at anything or anyone promising even a moment of satisfaction. Maturity of self-awareness (knowing our vulnerabilities) prepares us for growth in relationship with Jesus and therefore with each other. A healthy and positive discipline is required for this growth, like the athlete in training for competition or the musician rehearsing for performance.

The greatest achievement of the devil in our world today is that so many people think he doesn't exist. This means the he can operate without being noticed and in ways that are devious and destructive.

An Invitation: Take a few moments every day to notice Jesus present and active in the events and encounters of your life in the last few hours. Now become aware of where you have experienced the presence and action of the devil in your life today. Conclude these moments by remembering that in a conflict between Jesus and Satan, Jesus always wins. Fr. John O'Connor www.foodforfaith.org.nz

1st Sunday of Lent Year C
9/10 March 2019

But Jesus answered him.

"Scripture says: you must worship the Lord your God, and serve him alone" Luke 4:8

The temptations the devil offers Jesus are calculated to take him from following his Father.

Quoting the scripture Jesus makes it clear that we must worship God and serve him alone.

On this first Sunday of Lent let us take the time to recognise the temptations of the devil in our lives.

We do this by asking God to help and guide us, and by resolutely putting God first as we worship Him and serve our brothers and sisters.

- If you are in a situation to be able to support the Caritas Lent Appeal, I encourage you to do so and collect a set of envelopes.
